We are delighted to announce our yearly free auditions to be part of the NGYT dance company in #luton

The dance company was formed in 2012 and as well as performing at numerous community events we have also performed at regional and National festivals and notably the Royal Opera House. The dance company is for 14-24 year olds and together we work to create full length original dance pieces.

If you'd like to know anymore about the auditions or the company please get in touch with the artistic director

laura@ngyt.co.uk

Alternatively drop us a message on any of our social media platforms.

The dance company is seen as a place that will compliment existing classes you may already attend locally or regionally.

It's important to note this is not a class where we do exams or comps or focus on technique- this is a creative company that make dance performances.

We do not want dancers to drop out of existing established schools as we fully respect their work and invaluable contributions to the dance world. We often refer our young people in our companies to classes across #luton to focus on technique knowing very well this will enhance their development.

We hope dance schools will see this as an opportunity for their students to help further develop their potential careers in the industry.

Let's work together and support the #nextgeneration
